

City of Alameda Strategic Roadmap FY 2023 - 2026 - Priority Projects Survey

Overview & Instructions

Please complete this ~ 20 - 30 minute survey by Sunday April 16th.

This survey includes a first draft of staff-proposed projects for each strategic priority area. This survey is your first opportunity to comment on these projects. We will continue to discuss these in depth during the upcoming retreat on April 24, and you will have other opportunities to review these before the list is finalized in the Strategic Roadmap.

* 1. In case we need to follow up with you afterward, please include your name and email.

City of Alameda Strategic Roadmap FY 2023 - 2026 - Priority Projects Survey

Vision Statement

The revised priorities and objectives reflect what we heard from City Council at the March 6th retreat, and some input from the Executive Management Team. The vision statement is intended to establish a shared picture of where the City aims to go in the next three years. Please share your feedback below. We will provide a final draft at the retreat and you will have time for a brief final discussion.

CITY OF ALAMEDA, STRATEGIC ROADMAP 2023 - 2026

Draft Vision Statement

Alamedans of all ages, cultures and backgrounds feel supported and engaged in meaningful community and civic opportunities to continually make Alameda a better place to live. We celebrate and embrace our most important asset - our people - in everything we do.

New and existing households feel prioritized and welcomed into our community. Alameda is known as a low-crime community thanks to our well-resourced public safety services. Residents are proud to have safe, beautiful, clean green and blue spaces for play and recreation, as well as high quality schools, businesses, restaurants, and public events and art that reflect the vibrancy of their neighborhoods. All Alamedans can afford housing that meets their needs, including homeless individuals. People seeking assistance have access to ongoing social service support.

Residents and visitors have a variety of accessible transportation options, including walking, biking, public transit and cars, to get them safely to more destinations on the island and across the Bay Area, reducing local traffic congestion and accidents.

Alameda is more resilient to climate change and rising water levels, external factors that uniquely impact its island community. Alameda residents and businesses feel prepared and trust in local agencies to keep them safe during future natural disasters, including earthquakes and flooding.

Through fiscal responsibility and good governance, Alameda leverages its many assets - in housing, business, transportation, architecture, recreation, and natural resources - that contribute to the long-term betterment of its residents and environment. One of its biggest infrastructure projects, Alameda Point, is becoming a fully activated community, contributing to the economic, cultural and recreational landscape of the entire city. Overall, Alamedans are proud and hopeful for the island.

Strategic Priorities

The revised priorities and objectives reflect what we heard from City Council at the March 6th retreat, as well as input from the Executive Management Team. The priorities and objectives are meant to encapsulate the main strategic areas of focus and practical next steps for the City in the coming three years to work toward realizing the vision. Strategic projects will be grouped under each priority area.

Please share your feedback below. You will also have the opportunity to review each priority area and the related projects in depth later in this survey. We will share a final draft at the retreat and designate a short time for final discussion.
