Hi Transportation Commission,

I write in favor of the propose plan. No plan is perfect, but this is a great approach to a challenging intersection. Roundabouts are an efficient and safe way to manage cycle, pedestrian and automobile traffic. Having experienced roundabouts all over the world, they have proven to move traffic far more efficiently and safely than conventional intersections. They take some getting used to, but once learned, are the new standard, as the citizens of Carmel, Indiana have experienced.

Thank you,

John
