

A year in the life of the Alameda Museum and the Meyers House

tent and the seal of the Post Office Department

Lest day of March in the year of our ty, and of the Independence of the

and sixty fourth

Limklin Morses etc.

Archival Services pays about 1/3 of our expenses.

For years our dedicated members have raised

thousands each month
to keep the Museum
open and free to the public.

Books and DVDs on Alameda History

Antiques and Trinkets

Rare Books

Vintage Furniture

Thanks to a College of Alameda internship, Museum photo archives are being scanned by Robbie Erion. Digital images will be sold on-line, another source of income.

Education for Alameda Students and Grown-ups

HISTORIC ALAMEDA CALIFORNIA

A PUBLICATION OF

Educational brochures prepared by Museum board

Victorian & Edwardian Homes on the Island of Alameda

Queen Victoria ruled the British Empire for a long time, from 1837 until she died in 1901. Her son Edward VII then reigned until his death in 1910. In the United States, the structures Edwardian in their reigns are called Victorian and time a handful of styles were popular here. This during the decades from 1870 until 1910. Style are approximate, and some homes combine long time time that the decades assigned to each elements of different styles.

Collaboration with other organizations

Proclamation

HEREAS. Alameda has pioneered recognition of historic buildings as tangible evidence of the City's heritage, with two National Register Historic Districts (Park Street and the former Naval Air Station), four Heritage neighborhoods, thirty official monuments, and thousands of designated vintage buildings; and

WHEREAS. historic preservation engenders Heritage Tourism because revitalized neighborhoods and shopping districts attract many visitors, which, in turn, promotes commerce; and

WHEREAS. while most municipalities ded preservation, Alameda celebrat

WHEREAS, Alameda's legacy of history celebrated with walks, art exhi

and

WHEREAS.

two Preservation Season commemorate their 17th year Alameda Museum and the Ala Historic Preservation Awards e

WHEREAS.

Historic Preservation Season Advisory Board of the City Preservation Society, Alame Museum, Alameda Sun, Ala Alameda Business Association, Historic Preservation, Park Alameda Business Association.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that Alameda, do hereby proclaim February through June

The Museum organizes Historic Preservation Season for the City.

Historic Preservation Season in Alameda 2014

Tuesday, January 21, 2014, 7:00 p.m. Mayor Marie Gilmore proclaims Historic Preservation Season 2014. Council Chambers, City Hall, 2263 Santa Clara Avenue. Free.

Historic Preservation Season

in the City of Alameda and call upon the people of Alameda to participate in the many events during this special observance.

> Mari L. Gilmore Marie L. Gilmore

Mayor

The Six Museum Alliance of Alameda, the Island Where History Lives

MEYERS HOUSE AND GARDEN MUSEUM

2021 Alameda Avenue, Alameda, CA 94501

HOURS: 4th Sat. of each month, 1-4 p.m.

PHONE: (510) 521-1247 PRICES: $5 per person

GROUP RESERVATIONS: (510) 523-5907

RENTAL INFORMATION: Grounds only (510) 748-4565

WEB SITE:

http://www.alamedamuseum.org/meyers.html

_	CRAND
ENCINAL	ALAMEDA	CINTRAL	CHESTNUT
			WILLOW
			PARK ST.
		ī

Meyers House and Garden accomplishments during the past year

Long-term goals for Meyers House and Garden:

- ☐ Preserve and enhance the house and grounds
- ☐ Be economically self-sustaining
- ☐ Interpret the home, grounds, and artifacts for students, residents, and visitors

Preserve and enhance the house and grounds

Be economically self-sustaining

Interpret the home, grounds, and artifacts for students, residents, and visitors

If you go

- The Meyers House and Garden
- 2021 Alameda Avenue (between Willow and Chestnut streets)
- Open from 1 to 4 p.m., second and fourth Saturdays
- Admission $5.

Dennis Evanosky

Meyers House Museum now open two Saturdays a month

■ Alameda house museum now welcomes visitors each second, fourth Saturday

By Judith Lynch

The Meyers House is the only vintage home in Alameda open to the public. For the past 16 years, the home has been open only one day each month, staffed by volunteers under the direction of Alameda Museum Curator George Gunn.

The gracefully proportioned Colonial Revival house was completed in 1897. The Meyers family bequeath the property to the Alameda Museum and the city in 1994. At first the museum and the city's Recreation and Park Department co managed the house. Last year sole ownership of the property passed to the museum. The board of directors started a much-needed capital campaign to cover maintenance, such as painting, and to upgrade the home for events like weddings.

Spurred by the need for more public education and major fundraising, Gunn decided to open the house twice each month: from 1-4 p.m. on the second and fourth Saturdays, beginning January 11.

The $5 admission fee includes a docent tour, a major exhibit full of architectural details and a glimpse into the studio where architect Henry Meyers and his daughter Mildred drafted their building plans.

To volunteer, to contribute to the fund, or to learn more about the Meyers House visit www. alamedamusuem.org or leave a message at 521-1247. ***

Please come visit us!

Meyers House image courtesy of Samantha McNally