

I'm writing in regards to the decision on the 76 gas station on Webster St. Alameda to sell beer and wine. There are more than enough liquor stores, restaurants, bars, etc. that sell alcohol. I disagree with gas stations selling alcohol, especially the area where the 76 gas station is located. All the other gas stations including, Chevron, Safeway, Shell do not sell alcohol. I myself own a liquor store for a reason and that's mainly to sell alcohol.
