Dear Mayor Ashcraft and Alameda City Council members,

This email is to affirm my full support of the City entering into a lease agreement for Carnegie Innovation Hall.

The Carnegie Library Building has sat as a long neglected island institution for nearly two decades. Time is long overdue to restore Alameda's Carnegie Library.

This agreement will benefit the city both economically and culturally by combining technology, theater, arts, and innovation in a place where our community is invited to dream, learn, design, and grow.

After months of negotiating a lease agreement, and with no other offers available to the City for restoring this historic monument, I ask of the Council to do the right thing and swiftly move forward a lease agreement so that the Carnegie Innovation Hall non profit can appropriately secure funds and invest private dollars in renovating the library.

My best to each of you,

Kendra Meuser

Good morning, Mrs. Weisinger:

I have lived in Alameda since 1991. I am thrilled by the new energy we are feeling across our city center and community in general.

I am here as the AUSD CTE Industry Advisory Chairperson and heard of Michael Sturtz's Carnegie Innovation Hall (CIHall) plan at the last annual CTE meeting, hosted by Felicia Vargas.

I am thrilled at the prospect of revitalizing this historical gem which has sat sadly abandoned for the past 20 years!

I am electrified to think we can potentially utilizing this elegant 1902 edifice for first-class music venue/performances, and theater/sound production related educational classes (such as production design/sound design) that our high school students & citizens can attend in the future.

- Have you heard the acoustics of this place? Jaw dropping music venue, Watch  #music "Du bist die Ruh" via Carnegie Innovation Hall <https://vimeo.com/361976550> performed by: Marisa Lenhardt Patton, Dan Cantrell, and Lila Sklar - aren't they amazing? But, I am digressing.
- All use possibilities at this HALL are outlined on their website. www.CIHALL.org

But more apropos to this discussion, we saw how revitalizing the renovation of Alameda Theater in 2008 was to Alameda Downtown and the many visitors/revenues it has generated for surrounding businesses. And here too, I am reminded of the initial resistance. It's an understandable MO to resist change, but the folks who are proposing this project have done similar things successfully before and have lined up funders and other needed resources to diligently execute. (<https://carnegieinnovationhall.org/team/>)

I feel CIHall will have a similar positive and community enhancing impact on our town for generations to come.

Please sign the original 66-year lease as it had been discussed for the past 6 months; a term that the funders and donors feel will allow their substantial support to be worthwhile, before the building reverts to city ownership. Moreover, I've learned when talking with Michael Sturtz (who is also an Alameda resident btw) that he plans to hire Alameda artists and tradespeople for the restoration project!

Alamedians , young and old, will thank you!

It's time that the CARNEGIE LIBRARY is rejuvenated into a CARNEGIE INNOVATION HALL that will attract entrepreneurs & performers and educate the next generation of artists.

This beautiful structure has sat empty for 20+ years..imagine what it could offer to all of us....

Thank you, Nicole (a resident of Alameda since 1991)

Dear Lara Weisiger,

Please do everything in your power to facilitate the Lease Agreement for Carnegie Innovation Hall.

The restoration of Alameda's Carnegie Library and its transformation into the nonprofit Carnegie Innovation Hall will enrich our Island City both economically and culturally: it will become a valuable community resource. The Team spearheading this project has already proven its qualifications and expertise; I do not understand why, at this late hour, the City Council has decided to hold back on granting their Lease.

I ask you please to take into account the vast range of benefits Carnegie Innovation Hall will provide Alameda residents as well as those in neighboring areas. Please do the right thing and help facilitate this Lease.

Many thanks for your continued service and for your representation of our concerns as residents of Alameda.

Best,
Marlene Mujica-Fill

I am already on two committees for this project, Events and Historic Preservation. There is a need for an arts and performance space in the city, of this size, as right now we only have small and huge venues available. The creators of this concept have come up with a flexible plan that will serve us well.

After months negotiating a lease agreement, and with no other offers available to the City for restoring this historic monument, the Council should do the right thing and swiftly move forward a lease agreement so that the non profit can secure funds and invest private dollars in renovating the library.
