Closed Session Report Out

3-D 2019-7388 CONFERENCE WITH LEGAL COUNSEL – Potential Litigation against PG&E

This case involves a potential legal challenged against PG&E's Oakland Clean Energy Initiative ("OCEI") at Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC"). The OCEI is an experimental plan to address electric transmission reliability in the East Bay. This plan relies on AMP to perform transmission switching under certain contingency situations, and involves the decommissioning of a power plant in the City of Oakland, installation of 20-30 MW of energy storage, and aggressive local energy efficiency and solar. The OCEI disproportionately and discriminatorily relies upon AMP's capabilities to perform critical switching activities in real-time to ensure system reliability, and AMP and Alameda utility customers bear the risk if the experiment doesn't work. The Council reaffirmed its decision on 2/19/2019 authorizing the City Attorney to engage necessary Outside Legal Counsel to file and prosecute an administrative complaint with FERC regarding OCEI's impacts on the City of Alameda.
